ATTITUDES TOWARDS EU MOBILITY

12. How far would you agree or disagree with these statements on what the free movement of people within the EU represents?

	Totally agree	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	Completely disagree
A general benefit (Free movement gives people opportunity to travel, study or work anywhere they want around the bloc.)	○	○	○	○	○
An economic benefit (Free movement of labour may reduce the risk of economic imbalance across the territory of the single market.)	○	○	○	○	○
A general problem (Free movement of people can negatively affect living conditions for natives in receiving countries and/or cause problems in countries of origin.)	○	○	○	○	○
An economic problem (Economic benefits may be small/non existent or not be evenly distributed, and the movement of people means costs for many in host societies and/or countries of origin.)	○	○	○	○	○
An opportunity for mobile citizens (The benefits of free movement are mainly for the people who move.)	○	○	○	○	○
An opportunity for host societies (The benefits of free movement are mainly for the societies they move to.)	○	○	○	○	○
A problem for mobile citizens (They encounter difficulties such as: economic difficulties, unfriendly/hostile environments and/or emotional/psychological difficulties.)	○	○	○	○	○
A problem for host societies (They face problems such as: threats to their culture, labour market competition, falling wages, or increased crime/antisocial-behaviour.)	○	○	○	○	○
