- It is a truth universally acknowledged, that single archives in possession of good data collections, must be in want of a common catalogue.

C'mon Everybody

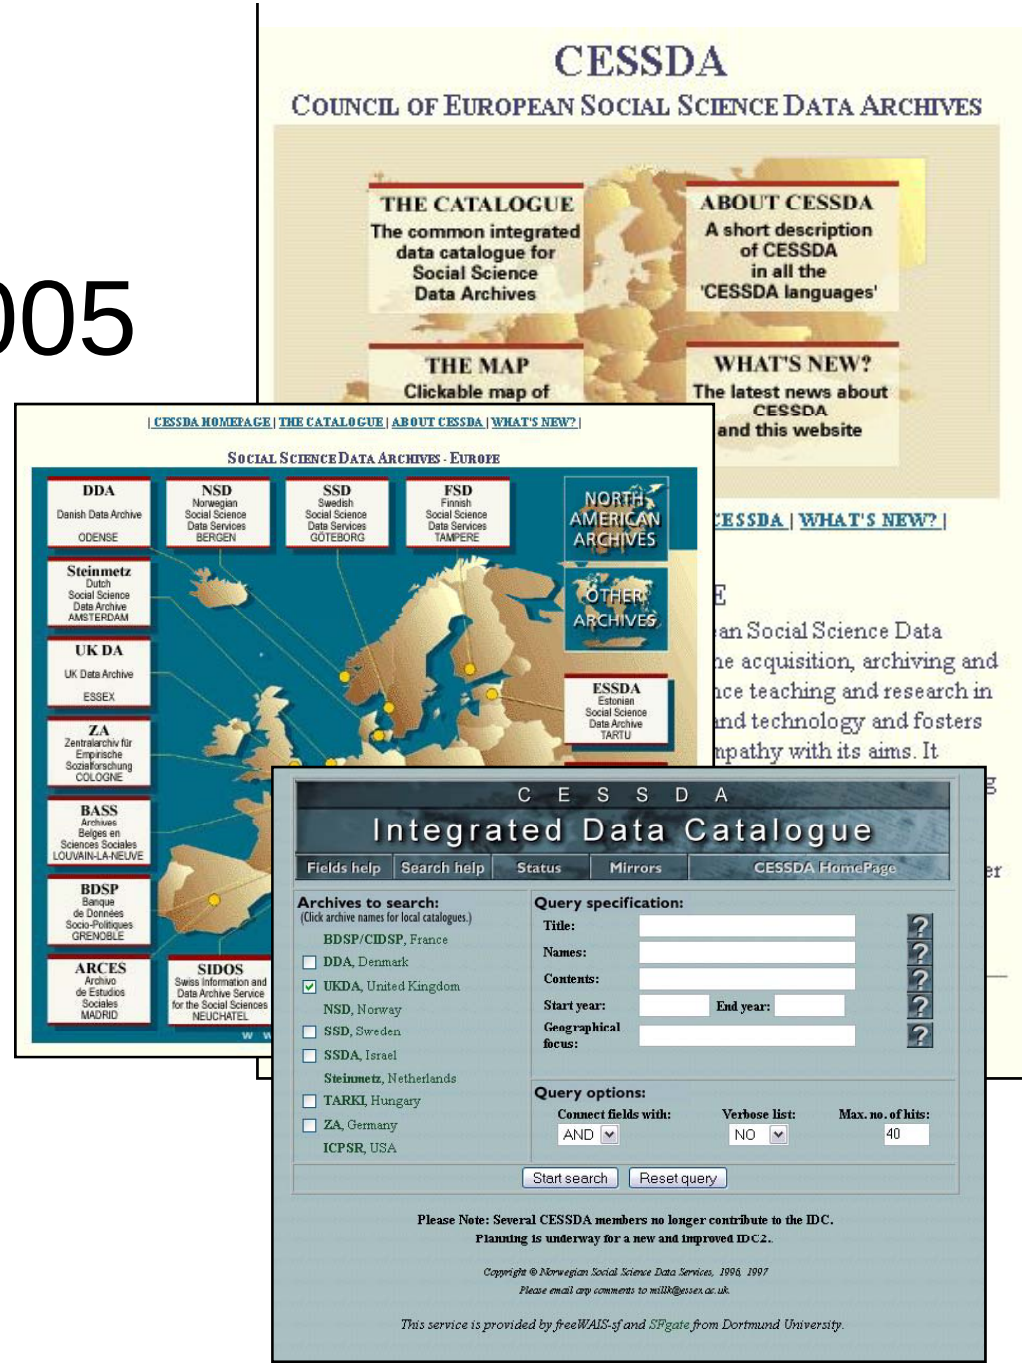
Yesterday
- history until 2005

- Integrated Data Catalogue IDC in November 1994, after the Grenoble Expert Seminar
- Hardly any changes since 1996
- Number of visits declined from 25000 in 2000 to less than 10000 in 2004
- Use of the IDC diminished from 2400 visits in 2000 to only 200 visits in 2004



To be or not to be - 2005

- April 2005: General Assembly, Neuchâtel: decision to form a Planning Group, led by FSD, to prepare suggestions for modifications
- August 2005: CESSDA Website Planning Group formed
- October 2005: Expert Seminar, Madrid: website session
- November 2005: Planning Group decided on the most urgent minor modifications
- November 2005: 1t stage of renewal completed (critical updates only)
- December 2005: Planning Group made a detailed proposal to CESSDA GA to renew the site (a.k.a. 2nd stage of renewal)

That is the question - 2006

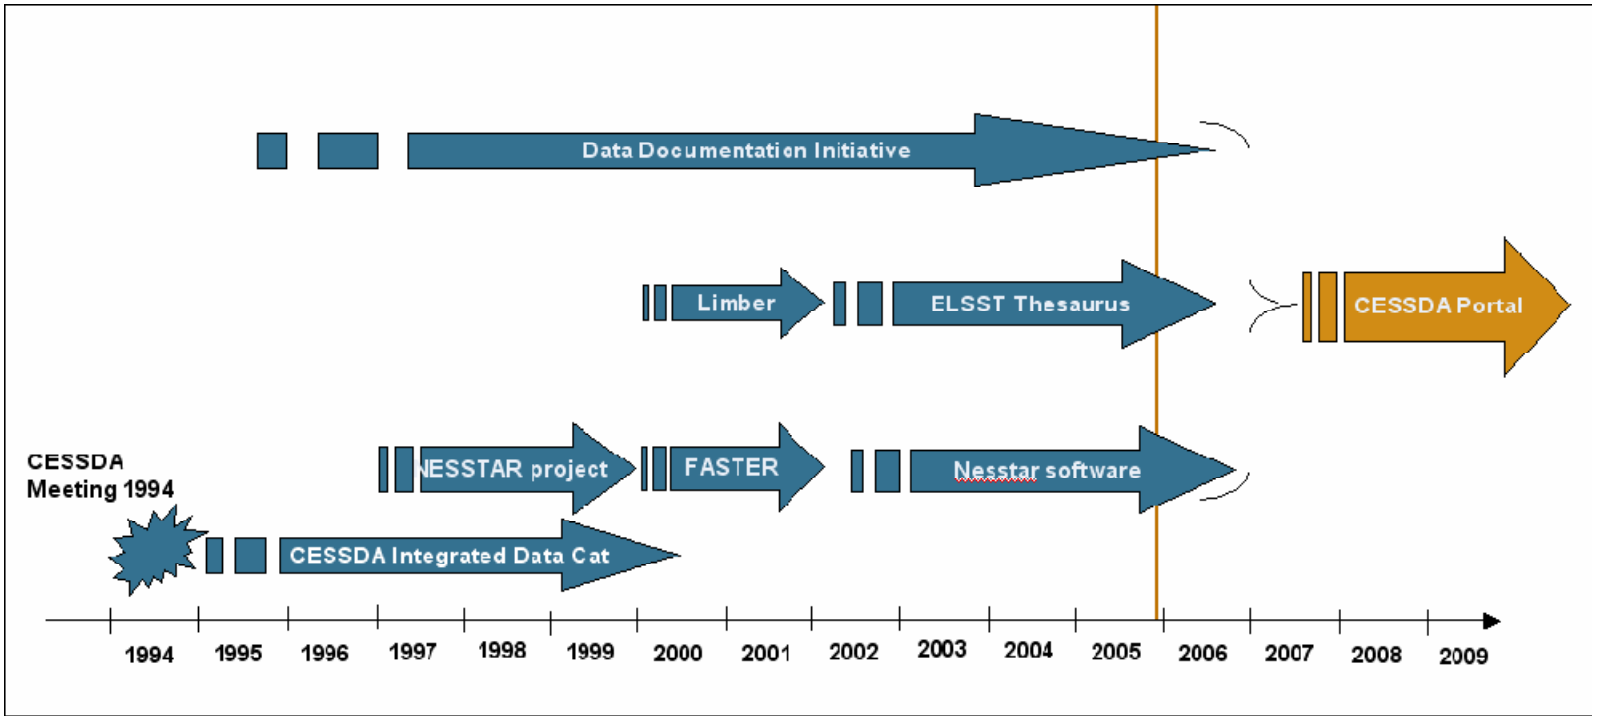
- May 2006: General Assembly meeting, Luxembourg: decision to put the renewal process forward, to form an Editorial Board, and to finalise the new common catalogue
- September 2006: First prototype of the new site
- September 2006: CESSDA Executive meeting, Copenhagen: several decisions to speed up the EB's work. UKDA to develop the new catalogue.

You Can't Always Get What You Want

The work depended on political decisions, e.g.

- Replacing IDC with new common catalogue
- Which archives/organisations to be included in the map
- CESSDA Intranet
- Establish an Editorial Board
- Resources and timetable
- Physical location of the server
- Define user groups

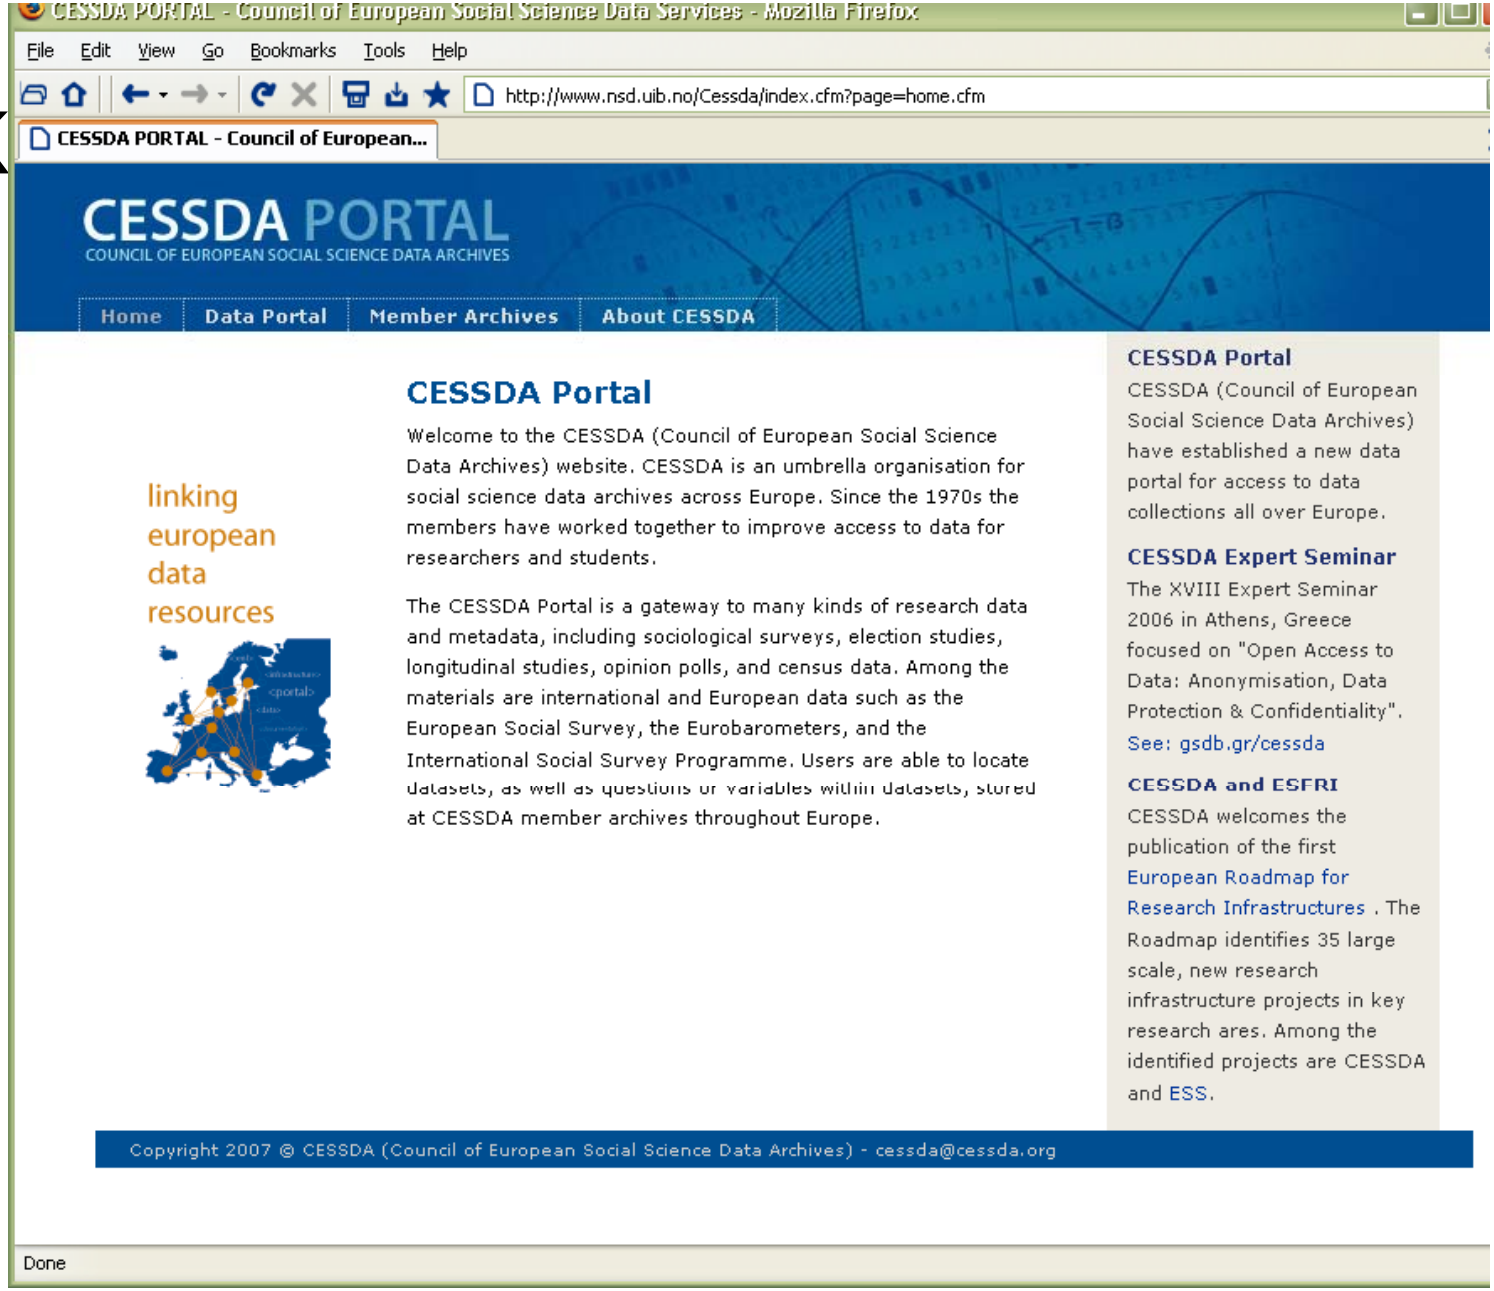
Let's Stay Together



Source: CESSDA-PPP bid / Building blocks

Break What

- New site 16.3. 2007



With A Little Help From My Friends

- Decentralized distribution of work and responsibilities:
  - NSD retains the www server
  - NSD created the layout
  - UKDA responsible for the data portal server
  - FSD responsible for updating the www content
  - ZA has registered the cessda.org domain
  - Each archive responsible for its own data catalogue

Message in a Bottle

- Complex user interface design via email is difficult (or even impossible)
- Need to distinguish between functionality (what buttons to click) and design (what we wish to communicate)
- More or less voluntary work gets us only so far
  - Still some unfinished issues (eg. intra, links to other resources,…) due to lack of time etc.
  - Resources needed: CESSDA is not a legal entity and has no regular centralised budget
- Clear political level decisions needed at an early stage
- Only clear questions will result in clear answers!

Neverending Story - Challenges

- Different cultures (what is seen as public information)
- At the moment the portal is mainly in English – what needs to be translated?
- An easy-to-use communication channel to facilitate collaboration and to share best practises (Intra) needed
- Current data portal might be a bit confusing to the end user
  - Different archives have different policies about which studies and what information (metadata/data) they publish – and in which language
- Long-time policies missing
- Many more addressed in the CESSDA PPP bid
